SHORT FILM SCREENING

Lights, Canberra, Action! The ten day filmmaking festival that took Canberra by storm earlier this month is having an encore screening this Friday night, 30th April. See the top twelve films on the Garema Place Screen. Starting at 7pm, the screening is free and open to all ages. For more information, email lightscanberra@inet.net.au or call the festival office on 6297 0432.

CALLING FOR SCRIPTS

Submissions close: Thursday June 10th

short::seasons short film festival and the UCU Film Production society are pleased to announce the short::seasons Film Project for winter'04. This is an opportunity for Canberran filmmakers to get a bit of cash, use of some equipment and heaps of support from the short::seasons team to make a film for the next short::seasons film festival. To apply for the funding, send a script (or scene breakdown) of a film you'd like to make and a bio of yourself and previous works (if any). The short::seasons team will then pick the best idea from the bunch and will help you make it happen.

For more information check out the website www.shortseasons.com.au and send an email: shortseasons@hotmail.com

CALLING FOR SHORT FILMS

Submissions close: Friday June 4th

SCINEMA is a national festival of science film that will screen around Australia during National Science Week, August 14-22. This year SCINEMA is launching a short science film competition, and entry forms can be found on the website at: www.csiro.au/scinema And don't think a science film has to be pure science. It can be a film that incorporates any science theme, subject, or character, as well as traditional science documentaries.

WORKSHOPS: SCREENWRITING

Screenwriting for the Global Film Industry with Simon Hunter

2 day workshop: Saturday 5 and Sunday 6 June from 9-5 both days.

This 2-Day Workshop provides experienced and beginning screenwriters with essential information to expand the potential markets for their screenplays. Domestic and International markets will be presented and where you, the screenwriter, can place your work. Over the two days participants will learn how to operate in different film industries across the globe. This workshop is all-inclusive, from writing the screenplay to protecting the script and selling to domestic and international markets. Participants are encouraged to develop their screenplay over the weekend, however no story ideas will be shared throughout the course to ensure protection of participants' work.

This is a tier 2 workshop and the course is for experienced screenwriters looking to expand their market and beginners looking to develop a professional career. Cost: non-members ($260), ACT Writers Centre members ($220), concessions ($200). Venue: ACT Writers Centre workshop room. Payment must be made at time of booking, by cash, credit card or cheque payable to ACT Writers Centre. For more information or bookings phone 6262 9191 or book online at www.actwriters.org.au

FUNDING: OPEN FOR APPLICATIONS

Applications Invited for 2005 Arts Funding Program

Deadline for applications - Friday 11 June 2004.

Please attend individual information sessions on 4 May 2004 and 6 May 2004. Appointments are essential. Please contact artsACT on (02) 6207 2384 to book a time. For ACT Indigenous Artists or groups who are interested please call Neville O'Neill Indigenous Arts Officer - Tel 62473314 or email jao@artsrec.org.au for assistance or advice. A booklet containing details of the funding program and applications will be distributed this week to arts organisations and artists around the ACT. LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS

The Canberra Short Film Festival is gearing up for it's ninth year in 2004 and is looking for people keen to help out. There are a number of jobs that need doing – some big, some small, so if you're interested, please drop them an email: canberrashort@iinet.net.au and let them know what you are available to do. The festival will be held in late October.

Cheers,

Marisa Martin
